Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 3-9, 11-16, 21, 23-29 and 31-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lockhart et al. (US 2004/0248972).

Lockhart et al. teach the use of the claimed statin compounds for the treatment of visual disorders, such as glaucoma. See page Para [0131], [0135], claims 16 and 18. The topical ophthalmic administration is taught in Para [0159]. The addition of other therapeutic agents in combination with the statin is taught in Para [0147]. Lockhart et al. differs from the claimed invention in teaching a different pathway, such as PDE6. It would have been obvious to a person skilled in the art to use the claimed compounds for the treatment of glaucoma, motivated by the teachings of Lockhart et al., which teach the use of such compounds for the treatment of glaucoma. The use of the same compounds as claimed herein for the treatment of glaucoma is expected to inhibit the HMG-CoA pathway.

Applicant's arguments and remarks have been carefully considered, but are not deemed to be persuasive. Applicant in his remarks argues that the prior art does not teach a compound that inhibits HMG-CoA reductase-catalyzed transformation of HMG-CoA to mevalonic acid, wherein said compound is statin for the treatment of glaucoma. It is the examiner's position that the prior art teaches the use of statin for the treatment of glaucoma. Therefore, it is expected that such use to inhibit the HMG-CoA reductase or any other enzymic pathway contributing to the treatment of glaucoma in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
